KEEP COOL—ORDER COAL TO-DAY ARTIFICIAL Ice Shortage Seen

Comments by a Coal Dealer Regarding Prohibition Sets Philanthropic Scientists Speculating.

Mr. Schatzkin, Vice-President of Burns Brothers' Ice Company, gave as a reason for the greater consumption of ice with prohibition that the use of soda water and ice cream increases enormously. Where two highballs would have supplied sufficient refreshment five ice cream sodas will be required.—News of the Day.

RADING which, while they sweated, philanthropic scientists in New York to-day expressed hope that before prohibition sets in in earnest Brother Schatzkin will spend a day with Angus MacDonald on the front seat of one of the Burns ice wagons and see where the ice goes. Ever see an ice wagon pull up in the early morning in front of a busy saloon?

Ever notice how long it remained there?

Ever count the number of times the men go in and out with great baskets filled with chopped ice? Ever count the great cakes the "boys" carry in and pile high in saloon refrigerators? Then you know where the ice goes. Schatzkin is talking about the "artificial ice shortage."

No, that isn't quite fair—the "shortage in artificial ice."

"We enter the summer with an acknowledged shortage of 500,000 tons of ice. We must provide ice for the use of families. To meet the shortage, I think it will be necessary to cut down on our supplies to ice cream manufacturers. Two weeks ago the situation was rosier. To-day it is depressingly black."

JUST why there is an artificial ice shortage is not explained. Two years ago it would have been "on account of the war." To-day it may be owing to the Peace Conference or the Gulf Stream or the Bolsheviks.

That is all plain enough; what isn't plain is Schatzkin's statement that when 11,495 ice wagons quit emptying their contents into saloons ice will be scarce.

Anyhow, everybody wants ice; therefore ice is up. Maybe this is the day to buy overcoats, overalls, red flannel shirts and coal.

SMUGGLED LINGERIE CAUSES TWO ARRESTS

Meanwhile a Woman in Fifth Avenue Is Waiting Anxiously for Summery Finery.

Somewhere on Fifth Avenue, in a fashionable home, a woman is waiting for her summer lingerie, and the chances are she will have to wait quite a while.

The grocer's boy was to have brought the fluffly things yesterday, but he was detained. Trouble is this: The lingerie is French and it was seized by customs officials on the French line pier. A steward on La Lorraine brought the finery over and it was concealed in a delivery wagon which had brought groceries to the ship. The driver of the wagon and the accused steward were arrested. The steward was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hitchcock and will not be permitted to sail with his ship to-day. The name and address of the woman were found on a card with the lingerie, but have not been made public.

Dr. Passon Guest of King George. LONDON, June 4.—Dr. Epiado Passon, President-elect of Brazil, who reached London yesterday from Paris for a few days' visit to England, was received by King George at Buckingham Palace to-day. In the afternoon he accompanied the royal family to Epsom Downs to witness the running of the Derby.

U. S. MARINES ARE LANDED IN COSTA RICA OVER REVOLT

Americans Disembark at Two Ports as Revolution Against Tinoco Government Spreads.

SAN SALVADOR, Republic of Salvador, June 4.—American marines have been landed at Punta Arenas and Port Limon, Costa Rica, because of the revolution against the Government headed by Gen. Tinoco, according to despatches printed in newspapers here.

The revolution in Costa Rica has been going on for the past two months. Forces said to have been recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua and advanced southward, clashing on several occasions with forces commanded by Joaquin Tinoco, Costa Rican Minister of War. Punta Arenas is a port on the Pacific Coast of Costa Rica and is the Pacific terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, which is the most important harbor on the Atlantic side of the country.

Eraherger Makes Denial. BERLIN, June 4.—Matthias Eraherger, Chairman of the German Armistice Commission, denied that he had predicted a new war within ten or fifteen years.
